JOHN VAN BUREN'S FUN.—We make the following laughable extract from a speech made by John Van Buren, whilst canvassing New York:

"I have been engaged in an active canvass in this State. I have had the good fortune—and it is a good fortune in these days of railroad disaster and massacres, to meet no accident. I have met no loss, except last night when my carpet bag was stolen from the cars. I do not mean to say that it was stolen by a Republican. But I do mean to say that no Democrat ever would have taken it. It was not a case for any mistake, for it was marked with my name in various places, and the contents of it would disclose to almost anybody whose property it was. I by no means intend to charge upon the Republicans the having taken possession of that bag. Least of all would I attribute the taking of it to General Kilpatrick, who has been here. I desire to say, in defence of General Kilpatrick, that he is much more remarkable for losing his own baggage than for taking the baggage of any one else. Nor do I hold him entirely to blame for that because, if I can depend upon the representations of his soldiers and officers, the quantity of his baggage requires a vast deal more watching than I have ever been able to give to mine."
